Charliemagne Agas

Inside Sales Specialist @ Grab | Information Management
Makati, National Capital Region, Philippines

Summary

As an Inside Sales Specialist at Grab, I use my sales and customer service skills to generate leads, close deals, and retain customers for the leading ride-hailing and mobile payments platform in Southeast Asia. I have a BS in Information Management from ACLC College, where I learned how to manage and analyze data and information systems. I have been working in the sales field for over four years, and I have experience in different industries, such as retail, hospitality, and education. I am passionate about connecting with people, solving problems, and delivering value. I am always eager to learn new things, improve my performance, and contribute to the growth and success of Grab and its partners.
